STEFAN CAMENZIND PARTNER, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Stefan Camenzind, founder and executive director of Evolution Design, worked in London and Paris before founding his architecture practice in 2004.

For all projects, Stefan develops a unique tailor-made process strategy to ensure the most innovative and successful end-result for each client. He oversees and steers projects from developing the brief through to the design and construction phase until the move-in day and supports clients also after the project completion.

Stefan leads our data-driven project research and analyses and ensures our creative design solutions are successfully meeting measurable KPI's for clients like Google, Unilever, PwC, Credit Suisse, and easyCredit.

«The most successful companies in the future will be the ones, which are the most innovative. To create innovative projects, which empower our client's mission, we constantly look for new and innovative ways of working.»
